WELCOME

Québec City welcomes the 35th Annual Meeting of The Canadian Biomaterials Society to be held from May 21 to 24, 2019 at the Loews Le Concorde Hotel. More than 300 attendees are expected.

Biomaterials, medical devices, health-related materials, for replacing, regenerating, imaging, treating and diagnosing diseased tissue is an ecosystem that continues to push the boundaries of clinical therapies. A number of biomaterials and devices already save or improve the quality of the life of millions around the Globe. Exciting products are still emerging in the clinic, while preclinical research is developing approaches that exhibit substantial promise. It is a wonderful time for CBS to provide a comprehensive update on these endeavors.

By partnering with us, you will firstly contribute to enhance the experience of our student participants and secondly will impact the future of our Society. Moreover, take advantage of CBS 2019 Annual Meeting to establish new contacts and initiate partnerships, renew ties with customers and profit from discussions on biomaterials research and technology trends. In addition, your visit will allow you to enjoy the numerous breathtaking attractions and unique cultural heritage of beautiful Quebec City. Do not miss this exceptional opportunity!

We look forward to welcoming you in Québec City.
